

ADRIAN DAKERS

ACTOR AND FACILITATOR

ABOUT ADRIAN

Adrian is an actor and facilitator with over 10 years' experience working in the corporate sector, using his skills and experience to engage groups and explore behavioural change. Adrian has an ability to effectively explore subject matters and establish key pieces of information from course participants, enabling him to create realistic and grounded characters that provide a solid platform to evaluate and develop the skills of the participants. As a facilitator, Adrian consistently demonstrates a personable approach to effectively communicate with delegates at all levels, encouraging and challenging them to explore self awareness and enhance their learning. This enables participants to acquire tools and techniques that they can then apply in their working environments. Rapport is crucial to Adrian's success in this field. His diverse experience, adaptable approach and enthusiastic, authentic delivery style make him an exceptional facilitator who is able to have a genuine and long lasting impact on those he engages.
